Graduate Profile

Sakeus Niigambo

“It was heartbreaking to learn and to hear from Doctor Helena Ndume – who tried operating on me – that my eyesight was beyond repair. I could not believe it. I did not know what to do with my life anymore because at that time I had also lost my job as a driver at Windhoek Country Club and Resort,” Niigambo recalled.

“I was inspired to start over again from the moment I joined. Everybody was blind but doing the most. They taught me everything, including dealing with myself, doing any activity, even using technology, reading and writing,” said Niigambo.

I was lucky to get a sponsorship from NTA, so I approached Tulipohamba in 2017. The lady I was speaking to at first could not believe what I was saying, she asked whether I could do it if I could not see, and I told her that I can, I just need a chance to prove it and she believed me.”

I chose Counseling because I want to help people with their challenges, particularly those living with disabilities, so I can give them hope because I feel like if they talk to someone [who is] like them they will be better encouraged,” he explained.

Josefina Nalimanguluke Shivute

After seven years of being a security guard, a 30-year-old woman has embarked on a journey to educate herself, becoming the first graduate in her family.

Although the ambitious Josefina Nalimanguluke Shivute just obtained a Level 4 certificate in Occupational Health and Safety from Tulipohamba Training and Assessment Institute, she is eager to study further and acquire more qualifications. “This is not my end. I am looking for an opportunity to continue with my studies” said Josefina.
