TULIPOHAMBA FINAL YEAR STUDENTS

FUTUREFIT SEMINAR2026

The TTAI Future Fit Seminar marked a significant milestone for students preparing to transition from the classroom to the professional world. The event was hailed as an overwhelming success, providing attendees with a comprehensive toolkit of industry insights, legal knowledge, and practical career advice.

Navigating the Recruitment Landscape

A core focus of the seminar was the art of the job hunt. TTAI Director Ms. Mwampole Malebogo, delivered a compelling presentation that pulled back the curtain on what employers truly look for. Her session provided deep insights into crafting standout CVs and mastering the nuances of high-stakes interviews. This perspective was further bolstered by Dr Lukas Nghihalwa, Human Resource personnel from the Oshana Regional Council. Drawing from their extensive experience in public sector recruitment, they shared invaluable tips on how students can align their professional profiles with institutional expectations, ensuring they remain competitive in a shifting labor market.

Bridging the Gap: Labor Systems and Safety

Understanding the legal and structural framework of the Namibian workforce was another key pillar of the day. Representatives from the Ministry of Justice and Labour Relations, Mr Charles Shikwambi, Ms Eilie Mbundu and Ms Josephine Sisani provided critical briefings on two essential fronts.

Occupational Health and Safety (OHS): An in-depth look at the rights and responsibilities of both employees and employers in maintaining a safe working environment.

The National Integrated Employment System (NIEIS): A practical guide on how students can utilize NIEIS to connect with registered vacancies and labor opportunities across the country.

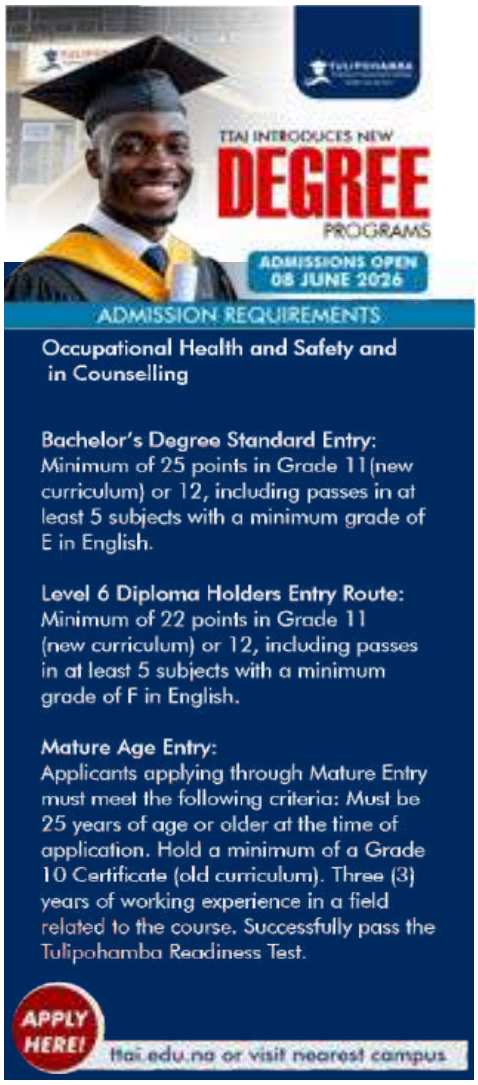

Specialized Industry Insights

In addition to general employability, the seminar touched on specialized career paths. Dr Mandero Ngaruka dentist, from the Oshakati State Hospital joined the forum to share on-the-ground expertise regarding Dental Surgery Assisting. This session offered a rare glimpse into the clinical and administrative demands of the dental profession, providing students with a realistic understanding of the day-to-day operations in a state-level medical facility.

Building a Future Fit Foundation

The seminar served as more than just an information session; it was a bridge between academic study and professional reality. By bringing together directors, government officials, and healthcare practitioners, TTAI has ensured that its students are not just educated, but Future Fit.

The event was incredibly informative. Seeing the collaboration between the Ministry, regional councils, and industry experts gives TTAI students the confidence to step into their careers with eyes wide open.
